Exploring North Carolina's Wildlife Aboard a Chance Morgan CPH

Wichita, Kan. — The Ellerbee Creek Railway located at the North Carolina Museum of Life and Science in Durham, NC received a new Chance Morgan C.P. Huntington locomotive on January 17, 2007.

The new locomotive replaces CPH locomotive #149 which provided service for nearly 30 years. The new locomotive, using existing coaches, will take museum visitors on an excursion to view red wolves and other wildlife. The train runs daily until 4pm and cost $2 per person to ride.
