Sedgwick County Zoo Keeping On Track With Electric C.P. Huntington Trains

Wichita, KS – The zoo introduced two brand-new lithium-ion battery-powered Electric C.P. Huntington Trains from Chance Rides. The inaugural trip officially started on July 22 at the zoo after a joyous ribbon-cutting ceremony.

“Having a train at the Sedgwick County Zoo has long been a dream of ours,” said Scott Newland, President and CEO of the Sedgwick County Zoo. “Of course we were thrilled to be able to have our C.P. Huntington electric train manufactured just down the road from us. The Safari Express brings the perfect amount of joy and whimsy to the zoo experience.”

The long-awaited train, will take visitors on a 1.3-mile excursion around the zoo’s perimeter offering vantage points they’ve never had. The train is named for the late Martha C. Buford, who was a longtime supporter and board member for the zoo.
